Serving Orangevale, Citrus Heights, Fair Oaks and Folsom

DEAR ORANGEVALE VIEW READERS,

The Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) has touched the lives and businesses of our families, friends and colleagues across the nation. Everyone has been impacted by recent school, business closures, restrictions to daily activities, cancellations of sporting events, and large gatherings.

As the situation evolves daily, safety is our utmost concern for our community. The Orangevale View, the Orangevale Chamber, and other community leaders are working hard to provide resources and up-to-date information as it is received.

We know it's our duty to serve as a trusted resource for our community. Our goal is to ensure our community is prepared, informed and in-tune with ongoing developments. Of equal importance, along with the Orangevale Chamber of Commerce, we will be at the front lines to spur local economic growth and stability as the current crisis ends and we shift our attention towards recovery.

With so much information currently available and publicly about Coronavirus, it's our responsibility to make certain our community remains adequately, properly and responsibly informed on Coronavirus. With that in mind, we are keeping our community informed on Coronavirus through social channels, emails, videos, and information received directly from local government representatives.

Additionally, the 57th Annual Orangevale Town Fair which is scheduled to take place on May 29-31, 2020 has no plans at this time to cancel or postponement. OVTF may be the first large-scale gathering for our community as recovery begins, making this a key opportunity for our community to band together and rally behind the positive impact we can make on our village - #OrangevaleStrong.

Remember, the smallest act of kindness can change someone's day. We are in this together.

Kindly,
Lisa Montes -Editor
Brad Tatum -Founder/Publisher

STAY HOME

The California State Public Health Officer and Director of the California Department of Public Health is ordering all individuals living in the State of California to stay home or at their place of residence, except as needed to maintain continuity of operation of the federal critical infrastructure sectors.

Read the Executive Order (pdf) <https://covid19.ca.gov/img/Executive-Order-N-33-20.pdf>

See the list of Essential Critical Infrastructure Workers (pdf). <http://covid19.ca.gov/img/EssentialCriticalInfrastructureWorkers.pdf>

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

When does the stay at home order go into effect and how long will we stay home? What areas of the state are covered?

The order went into effect on Thursday, March 19, 2020. The order is in place until further notice. It covers the whole state of California, and it exempts activity as needed to maintain continuity of operation of the federal critical infrastructure sectors, critical government services, schools, childcare, and construction, including housing construction.

What can I do? What's open?

Essential services will remain open, such as:

- Gas stations
- Pharmacies
- Food: Grocery stores, farmers markets, food banks, convenience stores, take-out and delivery restaurants
- Banks
- Laundromats/laundry services
- Essential state and local government functions will also remain open, including law enforcement and offices that provide government programs and services.

WHAT'S CLOSED?

- Dine-in restaurants
- Bars and nightclubs
- Entertainment venues
- Gyms and fitness studios
- Public events and gatherings
- Convention Centers
- Hair and nail salons

Can the Order be changed?

Yes. The State Public Health Officer may issue orders as needed – for example if more information emerges about the public health situation – and issue new orders and directives as conditions warrant.

How does this order interact with local orders to shelter in place? Does it supersede them?

This is a statewide order. Business and taxes

What businesses and organizations are exempt?

Businesses and organizations that provide critical infrastructure for the state are exempted, including health care and public health, public safety, food and agriculture and media. See the full list of exempt sectors (pdf). <http://covid19.ca.gov/img/Essential-CriticalInfrastructureWorkers.pdf>

I run/work at an exempted business or organization, as defined by the Order. Do I need to get an official letter of authorization from the state to operate?

No. If your business or organization is in the list of exempt sectors, it may still operate. You do not need to obtain any specific authorization from the state to do so.

Do I need to pay my taxes?

Yes, state and federal deadlines have been extended.

All state taxes are now due on July 15. <https://www.ftb.ca.gov/about-ftb/newsroom/news-releases/2020-3-state-postpones-tax-deadlines-until-july-15-due-to-the-covid-19-pandemic.html>

SCHOOLS AND CHILD-CARE

My school is providing free grab-and-go meals and childcare. Are those still open?

Yes. It is essential to keep children fed and educated. School employees should report to work and focus on distance learning, school meals, and childcare/supervision.

Are daycares still open? Can my babysitter still come to the house?

Yes. Daycares are still open, but only for children of parents working in essential sectors. Daycare centers that remain open should employ heightened cleaning and distancing requirements. Babysitters may also come to the house to care for minors of parents working in essential sectors.

HEALTH CARE AND HELPING SICK RELATIVES

What if I need to visit a health care provider?

If you are feeling sick with flu-like symptoms, please first call your doctor, a nurse hotline, or an urgent care center.

If you need to go to the hospital, call ahead so they can prepare for your arrival. If you need to call 911, tell the 911 operator the exact symptoms you are experiencing so the ambulance provider can prepare to treat you safely.

What about routine, elective or non-urgent medical appointments?

EXCEPT FOR ESSENTIAL NEEDS

Non-essential medical care like eye exams, teeth cleaning, and elective procedures must/should be cancelled or rescheduled. If possible, health care visits should be done remotely. Contact your health care provider to see what services they are providing.

May I still go out to get my prescriptions?

Yes. You may leave their homes to obtain prescriptions or get cannabis from a licensed cannabis retailer.

Can I leave home to care for my elderly parents or friends who require assistance to care for themselves? Or a friend or family member who has disabilities?

Yes. Be sure that you protect them and yourself by following social distancing guidelines such as washing hands before and after, using hand sanitizer, maintaining at least six feet of distance when possible, and coughing or sneezing into your elbow or a tissue and then washing your hands. If you have early signs of a cold, please stay away from your older loved ones.

Can I visit loved ones in the hospital, nursing home, skilled nursing facility, or other residential care facility?

Generally no. There are limited exceptions, such as if you are going to the hospital with a minor who is under 18 or someone who is developmentally disabled and needs assistance. For most other situations, the order prohibits non-necessary visitation to these kinds of facilities except at the end-of-life. This is difficult, but necessary to protect hospital staff and other patients.

OUTDOOR RECREATION

Can I still exercise? Take my kids to the park for fresh air? Take a walk around the block? Walk my dog?

Yes. So long as you are maintaining a safe social distance of six feet from people who aren't part of your household, it is ok to go outside for exercise, a walk or fresh air. Gyms are closed.

Does this order affect hiking? State Parks?

No, you may still go outside so long as you practice social distancing of six feet. California State Parks have closed indoor facilities and campgrounds, but trails and outdoor spaces are still open. Spending time outdoors can lead to a number of overall health and wellness benefits like lessening anxiety, boosting creativity and getting your vitamin D. If you decide to make a trip, remember to keep social distance.

For information on National Parks, please visit their website here. <https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/news/public-health-update.htm>

PETS

Can I walk my dog? Take my pet to the vet?

You can walk your dog. You can go to the vet or pet hospital if your pet is sick. Remember to distance yourself at least six feet from other pets and owners.

“FISHIN TIME”

Hello everyone

Hope this finds everyone well and happy. The first couple of weeks in March have been great as I have been getting out fishing in my kayak a lot. It's very peaceful and you get to see so many animals that are not very disturbed by your presence. From Eagles, to American Bitterns, it's really neat to be able to get so close. I got in a trip to the Ca Delta last week and I don't remember ever catching so many small male bass. At spawn time the smaller male bass get busy making a spot for the females to lay their eggs. They become very aggressive and eat just about anything coming by. Sinkos are a favorite bait of choice for me. I did hook and land a very nice size largemouth at Folsom about 2 weeks back and she really put up a good fight. The kayak shops will be having a demo day very soon now so watch for that to get you ready to purchase. Spring is on the horizon.

Have fun and stay safe!

SAN JUAN UNIFIED PLANNING FOR DISTANCE LEARNING

COVID-19 Update: Planning for distance learning as of March 20, 2020

Teaching and learning is at the heart of what we do each day. For the last week, health, safety and operational needs have been the priority, during which time we've rightfully heard many of our staff and parents call for more information on where we are headed instructionally.

We have attempted to be thoughtful in how services are rolled out to ensure we can answer questions of equity and meet legal requirements under federal and state law related to equal access. Keeping these elements in mind, it is our intent that every senior, who meets eligibility requirements, graduates this June and that all of our students can engage in meaningful learning.

It is a possibility that schools may not open after spring break. Therefore, we are working diligently to transition to a distance learning model of instruction. This does not mean we are adopting new curriculum or new lesson plans but rather we are looking to deliver our existing curriculum and materials in different ways that meet the needs of our diverse sets of learners. It is our desire that by Monday, April 13 we will shift from our strategy of read, review and enrichment to a model of distance learning that allows for new assignments and new learning.

To facilitate this we are currently finalizing plans for the distribution of technology to students who do not have devices. Distribution is slated to begin with high schools on March 25. Middle schools will follow by April 2, with elementary schools distributed prior to the end of the spring break. As part of this effort, we'll also be working with families to identify gaps in internet connectivity and match them with free or reduced-cost community solutions. (Between now and March 27, technology services staff will be working to remove restrictions on devices that keep them locked to the district network as well as ensuring we have processes in place to track who materials are checked out to.)

We know our high school families, especially those with seniors, are anxious about future plans. We have begun to assemble answers to frequent questions for high schools. (Similar documents for middle and elementary will be published soon.) On March 23, high school students who were already active on the APEX platform for coursework and credit recovery will regain access. We are exploring how we might add licenses to expand access to the online learning the platform provides.

Our goal is to serve every student to the greatest extent possible using remote and distance learning tools using the latest California Department of Education guidelines. Our Special Education team is collaborating with general education staff to develop the best plans to support all learners. Over the next few weeks, case managers will be reaching out to each family individually to review and set up services.

We are also working hard to implement support for our teachers and other educators as they make this shift through the use of virtual professional learning and collaborative communities of practitioners. All of our staff will have access to these services as they come online prior to our shift in delivery methods on April 13. Please note, that April 6-10 remains spring break with all staff off and no assignments or virtual office hours offered.

Like everything COVID-19 related, we expect this will be a rapidly evolving effort with changes by the moment. We ask for your patience and your guidance during this process to ensure that we support each other in this new model of distance learning and meet the needs of our learners.

TRIAL, ERROR, AND TAKEAWAYS

Trial, Error, and Takeaways
by Supervisor Sue Frost

In March 2018 I wrote an article in the Orangevale View outlining why I thought Sacramento County was in need of a work program for people who are homeless. In March 2019 I put theory into reality and officially rolled out a one-year trial program that would not only employ people who are homeless but also work to beautify Sacramento County at the same time. I promised you that after the trial was completed, I would report back on how effective the program was.

I am sad to report that the program ended largely in failure – but we did learn some important lessons. I want to take this opportunity to explain to you why it failed, and what we learned. But before that, I want to give you a refresher on exactly how the program functioned.

40 homeless people were planned to be identified who were both willing to work and be clean from drugs and alcohol. Shelter would be secured for them, and they would clean the American River Parkway for minimum wage pay in the morning, and go through a job training program in the afternoon. After leaving the program they would then get help in finding employment by getting introduced to employers, being placed in internships, and receiving certificates that enable them to earn more than minimum wage.

Unfortunately, we were only able to get 8 people out of a goal of 40 enrolled in the program, with even less graduated. By far the biggest reason for this failure was because the people in our program could not stay off drugs. Not only could they not stay clean, but we couldn't even find people who wanted to try getting clean. And we aren't talking just about drugs like marijuana, we are talking about extremely dangerous drugs like methamphetamine and crack cocaine. There were other problems with the program as well, such as showing up to work on time and a hesitance to work specifically in the construction industry. But those problems paled in comparison to the drug abuse.

The last official homeless count done less than a year ago showed that Sacramento County has over 5,500 homeless people living within our borders. And out of those 5,500, we could only find 8 who were willing to be drug-free. This is a startling statistic and one that has caused me to learn two important lessons from this endeavor.

The first lesson I learned is that we must solve the underlying problems that homeless people have before we can work on job training. It is a wasted effort and a drain on the taxpayers for no benefit. We have to solve their drug and alcohol dependence before we can expect them to responsibly hold down a job.

The other lesson I learned is that the data we receive from the federally mandated point-in-time homeless survey cannot be trusted. In the most recent iteration of that survey from 2019, the data told us that only 9% of homeless people claim alcohol or drugs prevents them from keeping a job or maintaining stable housing. An article in one Sacramento paper even claimed this data proves it is a "Myth" that homeless people all use drugs. At the time I severely questioned this data, but now I know for certain that it is faulty.

Even though this program itself was not successful, I am still glad that we did it and think there is great value to learning the lessons that we have. I also take great personal issue with new government programs that are started and turn out to be ineffective, yet get funded for eternity – so I am happy that we have quickly changed directions once we found out things weren't working.

I still believe that finding jobs for people who are homeless is an important piece to this overall problem that we are not looking close enough at. But I now realize with much greater clarity that there are bigger problems we have to get a handle on first.

Thank you for reading – and as always, if you want to contact me call me at 916-874-5491, or e-mail me at SupervisorFrost@saccounty.net.

Orangevale Cooks

by Suzanne Febowitz

I hope you are all doing well. I am staying busy by keeping virtual office hours for my students, cleaning and organizing and trying to figure out fun things to eat with limited resources. This recipe for lasagna soup fits that criteria! It was delicious and the best part of it was that you could make it as thick or thin as you want. The cheese is added after you put the soup into the bowl, so you are actually cutting out a few calories with less cheese than the traditional lasagna! It makes great leftovers, too! If you would like to share a favorite recipe with limited ingredients, please send a copy to Suzanne Febowitz at the Orangevale View (editor@ovview.com). Be sure to include your phone number or email with your recipe in case we need to contact you. If you wish to remain anonymous, just let us know and we will omit your name.

LASAGNA SOUP

- 1 pound lean ground beef (or half Italian sausage)
- 1 yellow onion, diced
- 4-5 garlic cloves, minced

- 1/4 - 1/2 teaspoon red pepper flakes
- 1 (24 oz.) jar favorite spaghetti sauce
- 8-10 cups low-sodium chicken broth, divided
- 1 (14 oz.) can crushed tomatoes
- 2 tablespoons tomato paste
- 2 teaspoons balsamic vinegar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons granulated sugar
- 1 tablespoon dried basil
- 1 teaspoon dried parsley
- 1 teaspoon dried oregano
- 1 whole bay leaf
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 10 uncooked lasagna noodles, broken into approx. 1-2 inch pieces
- 1/2 cup heavy cream (optional)

CHEESE GARNISH

- shredded mozzarella cheese
- freshly finely grated Parmesan cheese
- ricotta cheese
- 1. Heat large Dutch oven or large pot over medium high heat. Add beef and onion and cook, stirring occasionally until beef is browned. Add garlic and red pepper flakes and sauté for 30 seconds.

Drain off any excess fat.
2. Add Prego Sauce, 6 cups chicken broth, crushed tomatoes, tomato paste, balsamic vinegar, sugar, spices and lasagna noodles. Bring to a boil then reduce to a simmer until lasagna noodles are tender, stirring occasionally (approximately 20-30 minutes).

PETACULAR

LENDING LOVE!

One of our Love on Loan ambassadors and Sacramento SPCA alumni, Madam Mim, visited a senior facility in late February and made a big impact on Norma, a 90-year-old resident who can no longer care for a cat of her own.

We received an email this week from a family friend of Norma's about Mim's visit:

Thank you so very much for your time, kind and gentle nature and for your time in taking out Mim to visit Norma - you're such a gentle compassionate soul.

I'm including the photos I took of Mim and Norma to pass along to your community of friends, the owner, and SPCA. Mim is such a sweet and gentle fur baby.

It's was so cool to see the beautiful connection Mim made with Norma (out of the four of us) and of all the space in the room to go and chill, Mim decided to jump on the couch directly next to Norma and hang out...this really made Norma feel connected and special...

It's the tiniest of moments in life that truly matter, it's not materialism but innocent, precious unconditional moments exchanged by a little animal and a human. Many more good & positive vibes to you and your staff and all that you do for the community with your fur babies.

The Sacramento SPCA's Love on Loan program (just one of many animal-assisted therapy programs across the country) was started in 1984 by Sacramento SPCA staff and volunteers. Want more information about this program, visit sspca.org/loveonloan

Orangevale Chamber of Commerce Business Spotlight:

LES SCHWAB TIRES

By: MaryAnne Povey

If you haven't had a chance to meet this newcomer to town, you definitely should! Whether you need tires, a flat fixed, an alignment or just want to pop in to say "hi" you'll be glad you did! New store Manager Scott Gleave of Les Schwab, 9465 Madison Avenue, has an infectious smile (no pun intended!) and personality to match!

Scott and his family came to Orangevale about a year ago and quickly established roots into what he considers the most "amazing" Orangevale community! During his 14 years with the company, Scott managed operations at four locations, the last being Wenatchee, Washington, a town rich in agriculture. Coming to Orangevale was serendipitous being rich in community and agricultural roots too!

It didn't take long for Scott to settle in and embrace his new job and the community. He quickly plugged in by joining the Orangevale Chamber of Commerce and started supporting many local non-profit organizations through generous sponsorships and donations. He's a big believer in giving back to the community and has a long history for doing it.

Scott fondly recalled the time when a young man came back to thank him for sponsoring his high school wrestling team. It was that support from Les Schwab that helped save the school's wrestling program and enabled the student to go on to a D1 college.

"If you support them, they will support you," Scott said when asked about his giving philosophy. "It's good to be part of a community that's so united and actively working together."

That's just some of the positive culture out of the Les Schwab playbook which is a "customer first" driven organization. Besides that, the company believes in taking great care of its employees, so they feel supported in "going the extra mile" to help customers too. "Schwabism" is the term employees strive to achieve in having integrity and helping others whenever possible. It's that foundation that has made the company so successful.

The company has stores in 10 states nationwide and is proud to be recognized with the "Highest Customer Satisfaction Award" from J.D. Power and Associates for their aftermarket general maintenance and tire replacement.

In case you were wondering what services you can expect besides new tires for vehicles they also sell them for boats, RVs, commercial vehicles and agriculture equipment. Les Schwab offers free pre-trip safety checks for brakes, steering wheel, alignment, free rotation and flat tire fixes to name a few of their many services.

In response to the current COVID-19 crisis, they are offering emergency service to anyone worried about coming in for service. "We can pick up, and deliver and beyond, that would be happy to assist anyone who needs additional help," said Scott.

"We want our customers to feel secure and safe about their vehicle and want the community to know that the doors are still open and our staff is here to serve you," he added. The store is currently open Monday - Friday, 8 am - 6 pm and Saturday, 8 am - 5 pm.

"These are tough times and we want to help take out the stress and anxiety out of life," said Scott, "If we can help in any way, we want to do just that."

To contact the store call 916-990-0554 or email Scott at scott.gleave@lesschwab.com

WHERE WERE YOUR SCOUTS THIS MONTH?

Where were your Scouts this month?

This month, your Scouts camped at Indian Grinding Rock in our Sierra Nevada foothills. This state park is named for its impressive chaw'se, Miwok word for "grinding rock" – a slab of marbleized limestone on which Miwok, Maidu, Konkow, Monache, Nisenan, Tubatulabal, Washo, and Foothill Yokuts, ground acorns into meal. The 1,185 cup-shaped depressions in the stone holds the title of "largest collection of bedrock mortars" anywhere in North America.

In addition to setting up camp in the dark, planning and cooking their meals, your Scouts, made up of young men and women, ages 11-18, also did an interpretive hike to the ceremonial roundhouse, or hun'ge. Traditionally the village community center for social gatherings and ceremonial events, this hun'ge is a regional roundhouse, meaning even today, any tribe or band in the area may use it for special occasions, for healing, for guidance, for weddings, and to mourn the dead.

A game field, poscoi a we'a, has been reconstructed near the roundhouse. Here, the villagers played a game similar to soccer, where players tried to kick or carry a ball made of hide, to the opposite team's goal.

Both men and women played, but men could only kick the ball, while women could handle the ball in any manner. However, if a woman held the ball, a man could pick her up and run for the goal. Your scouts played a game of octoball in the field.

Scout BSA Troop 144 go on an overnight outing monthly. Your Scouts meet weekly at Christ the King, 5811 Walnut, Orangevale and are open to new Scouts. <http://boyscoutstroop144.ScoutLander.com>
